Net Surplus , March 1, 1885,	$200.00

In addition to above Surplus the town owns Real Estate which can be sold for $1800.

During the year the town has expended in widening and improving the Bridge at Goodrich's Mill about $170.00.

Long Island Bridge has been newly planked and repaired, costing $110.00, and the repairs on Town House exceeded the direct appropriations therefor by $123.75, making unusual expenditures for the year about $400.00.

The Liabilities of the town have been paid up as far as possible. The Joseph Smith liability of $1000, accepted by vote of the town, March, 1874, for life time of said Smith, would have been paid had your Selectmen seen their way to do so legally and safely.

The Ossipee mountain road has not yet been completed, so that it could be paid. We presume steps will be taken early in the spring to bring about a completion of the road as laid out.

The amount raised for various purposes, including $300 for repairs of Town Hall, was $1500. The Treasurer is of the opinion that $600 will be ample for coming year, and would recommend that sum.

We annex statement of town debt for past seven years.

Moultonborough, February, 28, 1885.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

We herewith respectfully submit our annual report of the schools of this town for the past year. We cannot give very extended remarks in the limited space assigned us in this report.

We believe the parents of the several districts will sustain us in the assertion that teachers have performed their duties with remarkable success, and that their schools will bear favorable comparison to other schools in the state. No disturbance has occurred in any of the schools worthy of notice. Whispering, that fretful source of disorder has been almost wholly suppressed, and good order maintained in and around the house. Several prudential committees have disregarded the law, paying teachers for their services before they have their report to the town committee and received a certificate of the same. The law is plainly printed on the leaf of the School Register, and every teacher should refuse their money until this law is strictly observed by the district committee.

When we compare the number of pupils in our schools at the present time with those of 20 or 30 years ago we find the number greatly diminished. Not more than half that attended our district schools then are reported now. One cause of this falling off is, without doubt, owing very much to the sparseness of children in families now, compared to former years, and these children leave the school earlier in life than they did years ago. Another thing has operated adversely to members in many schools, especially in this town. Several years ago a score or more of farms and homesteads went into the possession of a non-resident owner, and the families were scattered, many of them leaving town with numbers of school children, destroying one whole district and seriously lessening the number in many others. We would suggest to parents the need of keeping their children longer in the town schools, that they may be under the restraining influence of home until their minds are better matured and they are better prepared to withstand the alluring vices now so prevalent in the world. The excitement arising from reading dime novels, story papers, obscene illustrated magazines, police gazettes, and other kinds of vile sensational reading, is a fruitful source of mischief to the rising generation, especially in the cities of our land.

A law was passed by the legislature of New Hampshire, approved 1883, making it the duty of teachers of public schools to instruct their pupils in reference to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system. In order to satisfy parents and for the information of all others, that this new branch of instruction was not the work of teachers or committees, I herewith insert the law entire:

"Teachers of common schools shall be examined in Physiology and Hygiene with special reference to the effects of Alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system, &c., Provided that Physiology and Hygiene shall be prescribed in all schools sufficiently advanced."

Under this law it is made the imperative duty of town committees to examine all candidates desiring certificates of qualification, in this new branch of study.

One serious evil exists more or less in all of our school districts, and that is the tardiness of scholars in the morning and the habit of getting excused before the school closed at night. School registers are blackened up with marks of tardiness and absences in school hours. This is more the fault of parents than of teachers, and can be remedied by them, and will be when they see the evil effects of it upon their children. Parents should visit the school often and see for themselves how their children are progressing. The child is always pleased to see father or mother in the school-room. The farmer would not allow his hired help to labor in his field a long time without going to see how that labor is performed ; how much more need there is to know how the minds of his children are trained in the school-room, and often by perfect strangers. These common schools are truly called nurseries of learning, and all the business management of these schools should be conducted entirely free from entangling questions or partisan feeling. No discord in a neighborhood should be allowed for a moment to interrupt the peaceable transaction of all business relating to the school. No teacher should be employed because she is a cousin or in any way a relative to the district committee, unless that person possesses those sterling qualities necessary to constitute a successful teacher.

Parents should not complain of their teachers in presence or hearing of their children ; but if they think the teacher has committed an error it is much better to go to the person and see if their complaint is well founded, and in most cases it will be amicably arranged.

DISTRICT No. 1. Miss Fannie A. Huntress, teacher of both terms. The school was well managed, and general satisfaction given. School money, $131.39.

DISTRICT No. 2. Miss Lillian M. Caverly teacher of first term; Miss Alma G. Hoyt the second. Good discipline, good instruction, and good progress were the characteristics of both terms. The morals and manners of the pupils were carefully considered. Miss Caverly has instructed many terms of this school before, and all of them have been eminently successful. School money, $110.33.

DISTRICT No. 3. Miss Alma F. Spencer, teacher of the first term; Miss Flora B. Tilton, the second. Both of these ladies were young and inexperienced in school teaching, but they were quite successful and gave promise of becoming good teachers. School money $52.82.

DISTRICT No. 4. Miss Lizzie I. Watson, teacher of first term; Mrs. Alice M. Burrows the second. Miss Watson met with her usual good success. Her school was under excellent discipline and made commendable progress. Mrs. Burrows' school was less orderly. There seemed a want of interest with some of her pupils. We attribute the cause mainly to the feeble health of the teacher. School money $83.68.

DISTRICT No. 5. Miss Alma G. Hoyt, teacher of the first term; Miss Lizzie I. Watson the second and Mr. Herman H. Quimby the third. The many years of experience in the school-room of Miss Hoyt and Miss Watson places them in the foremost rank of school teachers.

Mr. Quimby deserves more than a passing notice. He is one of our most successful educators. He possesses superior acquirements; is an excellent disciplinarian, and has an easy way of imparting instruction to his pupils. District No. 5 may justly feel a pride, that they have furnished five excellent female teachers for the schools of this town the past year. Several other young ladies of this district are about ready to enter the school-room as teachers. School money, $166.26.

DISTRICT No. 6. This school came under the supervision of the Centre Harbor Superintending School Committee the present year; but owing to absence of that committee, the third term was superintended by the committee of this town. Miss Gertrude G. Farnham was teacher of this term. Some of the parents were decidedly of the opinion that the management of the teacher was injudicious, and that their children were not progressing as they should and would under a successful teacher. On our visit to the school near its close we found the number of pupils much reduced, but those remaining were orderly and evidently had made fair improvement. Miss Farnham is a well educated young lady, and she came well recommended. She has had much experience in business of teaching. We think there were some things indiscreet on the part of the teacher, and it may be on the part of the parents also. On further investigation the committee were clearly of the opinion that the complaints of a large number of the parents of this district were well founded, and that there were grave faults on the part of the teacher of sufficient magnitude to justify us in closing the school. Amount of school money, $61.12.

DISTRICT No. 7. Miss Fannie S. Fellows, teacher of first term; Miss Alma G. Hoyt the second.

Miss Fellows is an energetic young teacher and all parties interested were well satisfied with the excellent improvement of the pupils under her instruction. The same remark will apply to this school, under Miss Hoyt's instruction that were made in district Nos. 2 and 5. School money, $58.09.

DISTRICT No. 9. Both terms were under the instruction of Miss Ethel G. Morse. This teacher labored zealously for the improvement of her pupils, and we believe her efforts were crowned with success. School money, $96.40.

DISTRICT No. 10. Miss Cora M. Brown teacher of first term; Mrs. Delia E. Kelley the second. Miss Brown was quite young and inexperienced in teaching. She secured the love of her pupils and we think they made fair improvement for so short a school. Mrs. Kelley has had much experience as teacher. She was eminently successful in this school. Her pupils were well drilled in the elementary sounds of the letters—a work too much neglected in our schools.

DISTRICT No. 11. Miss Lindie G. Smith teacher of first term; Miss Vesta A. Glines the second. This school had five pupils in the summer term and four in the Fall. Both teachers did their work very creditably. Miss Smith is a well educated and experienced teacher. Miss Glines is quite young and wholly inexperienced in teaching, but if she perseveres in the business she will be successful. School money, $58.81.

DISTRICT No. 12. Miss Nellie C. Watson teacher of both terms. Miss Watson possesses superior literary acquirements. A mind well matured for one so young, and moral character worthy to be imitated by the children under her charge; her school was successful. School money, $101.74.

DISTRICT No. 13. Miss Nellie B. Lamprey teacher of first term. Mr. Charles B. Hoyt the second. Miss Lamprey displayed too little energy in the school-room to warrant her good success in that profession. Mr. Hoyt has a good faculty of simplifying difficult principles, and making them more intelligible to his pupils. His school made commendable advancement for so short a term. School money, $67.51.

DISTRICT No. 14. Miss Helen I. Brown teacher of first term; Miss Lillie L. Brown, the second. Miss Helen I. Brown has had some experience in school teaching, and is well qualified for the work. Notice did not reach us in season to visit her school at its close. Miss Lillie L. Brown displayed remarkable skill in the management of her school considering it was her first effort in the business. A little better knowledge of some of the branches will prepare her for a first-class teacher. School money, $61.99.
